Featuring new advances in pediatric dermatology and once again led by founder and chair, Lawrence A. Schachner, MD, MOPD 2024 is sure to engage all providers and equip them with the skills and expertise they need to advance their practice and career.

The 2024 lineup will include all new treatments and therapies, up-to-date provider education, interactive lectures, panel discussions, in-depth case studies, and much more.

As a leading authority in advancing pediatric dermatology education, MOPD aims to provide all attendees with the first-class educational experience they have come to expect from this highly regarded conference.

We look forward to another impressive convergence of pediatric dermatology education, and we can't wait to see you there!
